Personal Statement

I'm a hardworker iOS developer. I've spend most of my development career while developing navigational, data-processing and image processing apps. Most of the time I've been working alone, had only few months of team-work experience, but I'm familiar with scrum.

Currently I'm looking for some new places to grow and prove myself. I'm available for any kind of offers - remote, part-time, fulltime and so on.
