Personal Statement

I have more than 7 years experience, leading all marketing, management, technology and design stuff - cooperating with people and managing various production teams, making development and production stages successful. I have lead few game development/web projects from zero to market on very low costs. Also I have hired and managed more than 25 people in all of my teams (in web / game development) 2d/3d designers to programmers.

My understandings and expertise are working from programming issues to graphical design and any marketing activity as well.

I can make any IT or Web projects to the market without any hassle making team showing better results.

I understand all UX/UI principles discovering and learning references of competitors products, shifting best practices from any of my experience or from references.
