Aprašymas

Oddschecker Global Media ("OGM") is an iGaming publishing group with a team of over 200 motivated and hardworking individuals based across the globe. Having long being aligned with Sky Betting & Gaming, we have recently been acquired by Bruin Capital in 2021.

OGM comprises three affiliate brands (Oddschecker, WhoScored, CasinoSmash) and a digital media agency (VIME) with offices in the UK, Barcelona and Lithuania, and products operated in regulated markets across the world, including in the UK, USA and across Europe.

OGM is a market leader in the gambling affiliate space with oddschecker being the leading name in odds comparison globally. The UK online gambling industry has been one of the fastest growing and technologically innovative sectors over the last 5 years and OGM has been at the centre of this. Our current focus is on product innovation and international expansion.

What you'll do as Front-end Engineer in the Affiliate team...

This is an opportunity to join oddschecker's growing development team. The role will be building and maintaining oddschecker UK websites. You will be working across multiple teams collaborating in an agile environment to ensure products are created to a high standard.

Your key responsibilities will include...

- Work on a product used daily by millions of users
- Build and maintain the UK desktop and mobile client side platforms
- Taking design ideas and seeing them through to production
- Participate in estimation, planning, design and ideas stages
- Working as part of the UK development team
- Have the opportunity to influence our roadmap and take your ideas through to execution

We need someone who has knowledge of the following...

- Strong experience with React and modern ES6 JavaScript
- Strong web development skills with experience in hand-coding HTML/HTML5, CSS/CSS3/SASS, JavaScript/jQuery
- Experience working in an Agile environment on fast developing products
- Good knowledge of front-end build tools such as webpack, rollup and task-runners like gulp
- Good knowledge of git and its pairing with remote repositories, like Gitlab/Github
- Strong command of cross-browser development techniques
- Excellent understanding of, and interest in, usability issues
- Skilled at building table-free layouts using semantic mark-up and modern CSS features
- Good understanding of SEO and its importance
- TDD and Testing Frameworks e.g. Jest, Mocha, Chai etc

Desired but not essential....

- Experience in server-side technologies (Java, Spring, Node)
- Database experience, in particular MySQL
- Understanding of node module/npm library development
- Familiarity with the MVC website architecture and single page app architecture
- XSLT 2.0 & XML

What you'll get back from us

Alongside of being challenged daily and a real interest in your development, you will also receive:

- Dynamic global organization with more than 200

amazing colleagues all around the Globe

- Opportunity to shape the future of our products using Mac/Windows
- Competitive salary (up to 4000 EUR gross monthly depending on qualifications and experience)
- Private health insurance (one of the best in the industry! promise)
- Accident insurance
- Snacks all day long in full equipped kitchen (pancakes, waffles made by colleagues)
- Truly open and flexible environment (flexible working hours, hybrid working model)
- High performing and growth-oriented environment for employees (1on1 culture, online training courses, conferences, office library, performance appraisals 3 times per year)
- Supportive and caring culture (Selfcare day, Employee Assistance Program, supportive team leads)
- Stress-free relaxing zones with foosball, darts, xbox, fun colleagues, plank challenges, sports challenges
- Social Events, Christmas and Summer parties, poker evenings, Halloween celebrations
